Reach your audience. Reconnect through the power of print.

At asendia, we help your business grow beyond borders, confidently and intelligently.

We design international mail solutions that make global communication easy, reliable, and effective. From promotional mail and business correspondence to transactional mail and publications solutions, we connect you to customers, partners, and readers worldwide.

With deep expertise and a global network, we make sure your mail reaches the right place, at the right time, supporting customer engagement, business operations, and long-term growth.

Nobody knows international mail like we do.

When physical meets digital.

The power of phygital engagement.

Today's most effective customer journeys combine the tangible impact of physical mail with the speed and convenience of digital commerce.

At asendia, we see international mail not as a standalone channel, but as part of a broader ecosystem that connects brands with audiences across physical and digital touchpoints.

A catalogue can inspire discovery.

A personalised letter can build trust.

A printed offer can drive customers online.

When integrated with digital platforms and global e-commerce logistics like e-PAQ, mail becomes a powerful driver of engagement, conversion, and loyalty.

Making global mail distribution easy, reliable, and sustainable

MAIL

We work in close partnership with trusted suppliers around the world to design solutions that fit your needs.

From catalogues, brochures, leaflets, advertising and promotional mailings to invoices, account statements, annual reports, contracts as well as newspapers and magazines, we handle international distribution with efficiency and care. Our smart-design approach helps you reach existing and new audiences reliably and cost-effectively.

We also support you with value adding services such as address data optimisation, lettershop solutions, and undeliverable mail management, so every mailing works harder for your business.
